To strengthen Medikabazaar presence across the nation and globally

Creaegis backed soonicorn Medikabazaar has announced two top level appointments to their current management, making it one of the high profile additions in the recent times. This appointment takes place at a time when Medikabazaar is seeking to further strengthen its leadership in healthcare supply chain, grow in the emerging market segment, aid in institutional linkage, and create new strategic partnerships globally.

Dr Sandeep Gandhi has been appointed as the chief human resources officer (CHRO). He will support the company's people-first culture and human resources strategy. Dr Gandhi has close to 2.5 decades of experience and has held positions with PepsiCo, Aircel Maxis, Vodafone, and Telenor, among others. He has three consecutive years of winning the Brandon Hall Award for best CHRO and HR practices. Dedicated author who has produced a large number of papers and case studies in prestigious business publications like Dukes Publishing, Dr Gandhi will concentrate on bringing in top talent and enhancing the organisation's people first culture.

On the other hand, Manish Gahlaut has been named as the company's Chief Operations Officer (COO), and he will be spear heading supply chain management. Manish has more than 2.5 decades of experience in the healthcare sector, working with numerous multinational corporations (MNCs) like Novartis, Abbott, and Bausch & Lomb throughout India and the Asia Pacific region.
