

Medtronic launches new pacemaker in India

07 August 2014 | News | By BioSpectrum Bureau

Medtronic launches new pacemaker in India

"The unique diagnostic capabilities of this smart device will help improve function throughout the continuum of care," said Mr Milind Shah, MD & VP South Asia, India Medtronic.

The product includes the Medtronic-exclusive AdaptivCRT software, which is the only algorithm demonstrated to improve heart failure patients' response to therapy, and reduce the risk of atrial fibrillation.

"We are proud to introduce this latest innovative medical technology for the treatment of cardiac arrhythmias, to help deliver clinical as well as economic value to patients in India," he commented.